

Get WIL powered

What is WIL?

- › work-integrated learning (WIL) brings post-secondary students into the workplace
 - students benefit by gaining quality work experience and a chance to apply what they've learned in a practical setting
 - workplaces benefit by bringing in skilled talent eager to help you meet your business objectives
 - use WIL to build your talent pipeline
- › WIL is an academic requirement that students must complete in order to graduate
- › nine types of WIL provide flexibility and options for different workplaces and programs

Explore WIL funding options

- › Federal and Provincial governments are actively supporting WIL by offering funding to small and medium-sized businesses
- › funders will work with you to optimize your submission
 - visit our website to learn about current funding programs
 - research funders to find a match
 - visit funder websites to submit your application for funding
 - recruit the WIL student with the best fit
- › with COVID-19, funding programs are offering more flexibility and quick processing of applications

Find a WIL student

- › consider how you want the WIL student to help
 - what is the goal you hope to achieve?
 - what is the type of work and work environment?
 - what is the timing/duration?
- › learn more about our 25 post-secondary institutions and their programs through our website
- › post your opportunity through our portal for automatic distribution to the institutions you select

Grow future talent through WIL

- › mentor WIL student entrepreneurs
- › apprentice trades workers
- › develop professionals through practicums and internships
- › partner on a research project with a post-secondary institution and WIL students
- › partner with WIL students to tackle community-based and social innovation projects

Invigorate your business with WIL

- › WIL students can help you:
 - pivot to online platforms
 - research new business opportunities
 - design, test and launch new products
 - analyse data and field research
 - create and implement marketing and communications plans
 - develop recommendations and business plans
 - monitor and survey ecological and wildlife environments

Get started here: