Official Global Travel Advisories

- Avoid non-essential travel outside Canada until further notice
- Avoid all cruise ship travel outside Canada until further notice

A foreign government may implement restrictions on short notice, including international transportation options available, as they have officially returning to Canada or may have to leave the country by commercial means.

Check your travel insurance policy to see if it covers you for your destination and activities.

The governments of those destinations that have opened their borders to tourists could impose new restrictions on short notice, including the reimposition or increase in cases of COVID-19. International transportation options could be reduced significantly, making it difficult for you to return home. Check your travel insurance policy to see if it covers you for your destination and activities. If you choose to travel, you may have to remain abroad longer than you expected.

If you choose to travel despite these conditions:

- you may have difficulty obtaining essential products and services
- you may be subject to entry requirements and regulations that are:
  - you may suddenly face strict movement restrictions and quarantines or deportation
  - applied inconsistently

- we may have limited capacity to offer you consular services.

If you are in Canada and you are returning home, see COVID-19 safety and security advice for Canadians abroad.
